CHILE AND PERU SHARPENING THEIR KNIVES

(By Associated Press)
Lima, Peru, Nov. 25.—Peruvian newspapers called upon the Government to request a cessation of anti-Peruvian demonstrations in Chile. They declared that if the demonstrations continued anti-Chilean outbreaks may be expected in Peru. The demonstrations grow out of the differences between Chile on one side and Peru and Bolivia on the other concerning border provinces of Tacna and Arica.

ANTHRACITE PRODUCTION BEHIND

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 23.—Production of anthracite coal is now 100,000 net tons behind the daily average for last year. During the week ending Nov. 15th production averaged 234,000 net tons daily in comparison with 332,000 net tons during the same week of 1917. Influenza and the celebration of the armistice signing contributed to the lowering of production according to the Fuel Administration.

EXETER

Exeter, Nov. 25.—The Rockingham county convention of the Boys' and Girls' clubs connected with the farm bureau was held Saturday in Red Men's hall. During the morning session games were played by the members under the supervision of Helen McLaughlin, home demonstration agent, and speakers were Professor Whorisky of New Hampshire college, Miss McLaughlin and Ray E. Deuel, county agent. Following the session at Red Men's hall there were moving pictures at the local theatre, the films being furnished by the department of agriculture.

Thanksgiving day will be observed in the usual manner here, services having been arranged for the Christ church at 10.45 in the morning, where the pastor, Rev. Victor M. Haughton, has arranged for a special service. In the evening there will be holy communion at 7.30 in the new chapel.

This week Thanksgiving bags will be distributed for the Exeter Cottage hospital as has been the custom for many years.

The customary union services this year will be held in the Unitarian church at 10.45. The preaching will be by the pastor, Rev. Edward Green.

Mrs. Herbert P. Dunn has been appointed as health supervisor in the public schools.

Lewis W. Lipscomb of San Antonio, Tex., an academy student, who has been ill at the Exeter Cottage hospital since early fall, being taken while a guest at the Graduates' House, is soon to be discharged.

The funeral services of Earl M. Lawrence, who died in the service at Gettysburg, Pa., were held Saturday afternoon at the Baptist church. Members of the Sanitary corps of the State Guard attended in a body.

Elphelia Mechoach and Anna Pozda, two Newark women, were in municipal court Saturday, charged with bringing liquor into the state from Massachusetts. They were fined $25 and costs, and also were held under $100 for the federal court. Commissioner Burns P. Hodgman of Concord heard the case for the federal court. Bonds were furnished by the respondents.

DOVER

Dover, Nov. 25.—Although the municipal election occurs here on Tuesday next, there seems to be little interest taken in the result. The Republican leaders claim to feel sure that the present mayor, Hon. Fred C. Smallley, will be elected again this year with an increased majority. The same situation exists in the several wards of the city as to the nominees for aldermen and councilmen. The general prediction is that there will be but a very small vote.

A union service was held in the opera house Saturday evening under the direction of Dover's Ministerial association, which was attended by more than 1,000 people. The principal speaker was Dr. Charles F. Carter of Hartford, Conn., who delivered his most timely and interesting lecture on "The Moral Crimes of the War." Dr. Carter is a most eloquent and convincing speaker. The First Parish quartet

TRAINING LITTLE CHILDREN

Mothers' Problem: To Provide Children Every Minute With Something to Do—Country Mothers Have a Dozen Easy Answers for Every One Which is Available to the City Mother.

ARTICLE XXXIX—BY DOROTHY CANFIELD FISHER.

A well known doctor has suggested that every person, once in his life, should be prevented by force from drinking a drop of water for twenty-four hours. In order that thereafter he might appreciate what free access to water means for health and comfort. On the same principle it might be a good thing if every country mother should be obliged to spend a month with her young children in the city, so that she might thereafter appreciate what splendid opportunities lie all about her country home. For the poorest, busiest country mother can easily have conditions and materials for which many a highly trained kindergarten teacher sighs in vain.

Perhaps the greatest of her privileges is the wonderful resource of having all outdoors, but this is a privilege which the mother of young children is apt to neglect. She herself must be in the kitchen or near it during much of the day, and who must have her babies where they are with in sight. It often follows that country little folks spend almost as much time hanging drearily around a kitchen where they are in the way and where the air is not good, as do the city cousins. What else can the busy mother do?

She can apply to her children the lessons she has learned about little chicks. Her men folk, hardened to fending long stretches of field, and meadow, would laugh at the ease with which a little square of yard outside the kitchen door can be enclosed. Fencing which is not good enough for chickens will keep little children safe from automobile haunted roads, from wandering cows, from running out of sight of their mother's eyes. And there is no farm in the country where there is not enough discarded fence material of one kind or another lying about to inclose a spot, say twenty feet square, though it might be larger to advantage. It is better if there is a tree to furnish some shade for hot days, but if there is none near enough to the house, a piece of old paper roofing, or a section of old corrugated iron roofing or some old boards with odd and ends of shingles put over them, will furnish shade in a corner of the baby yard for hot days, and protection from the rain during summer showers.

Now with her little ones foot free and yet in security, out from under her feet in the kitchen, and yet close at hand within sight and hearing as she steps about her daily work, the country mother can take counsel what to do next. The very next thing to do is to learn by heart a short and simple maxim, and to repeat it to herself until she has absorbed the essence of it into her very bones. The maxim is: "Little children wish and need to be doing something with their bodies and hands every minute they are awake." The problem faced by every mother is to provide them every minute with something to do which cannot hurt them, which will help them to grow, and which will not be too upsetting to the regularity of the family life.

Now the country mother has at hand a dozen easy and satisfactory answers to this problem for every one which is available to the city mother. To begin with, if a load of sand is dumped in one corner of the baby yard and some old spoons and worn out pots contributed from the kitchen, there will be many hours of every day during which the fortune of a millionaire could give such a child yard with sand pile in it. The little folks no more happiness, costs almost nothing in time, money or effort, and no words can express the degree to which it lightens the labors and anxieties of the mother. And yet one can drive a hundred miles in rural and village America without seeing an example of it.

Now this plain, bare provision for perfectly untrammeled running about is in itself a better fate than befalls the average child under five, and this much can be attained by any country mother with less effort and expense than a yard for poultry. But this can be varied and improved in innumerable inexpensive ways until conditions are almost ideal for little children. A piece of planed board can be nailed upon four stout sticks driven into the ground and another on higher sticks put before it, and the little folks will have a bench and table which cost, perhaps, twenty cents, and are as serviceable as the pretty kindergarten painted ones which cost ten times as much. Potter's clay can be bought for a few cents a pound and for a variation from sand pile plays, young children turn gladly to clay modeling. If the mother has time and ability to supervise this carefully, so much the better, but if she is so busy that she can only call out from the kitchen above or wash tub a cheerful suggestion to make some little cups and saucers, or a bird's nest and eggs, this will serve very well, as a beginning. If the clay is kept where it can be obtained really, it is possible that one of more of the children may show some strings of native ability and begin to try to reproduce the animal life of the country.

If the country mother has followed these suggestions she has now, with small trouble to herself, put at the disposal of her children the two great elements of air and earth. There is another one, almost as eternally fascinating as sand, and that is water. If four sticks of wood are nailed in the form of a square at one end of the little table and a pan half full of water is set securely down into this square so that it will not tip over, another great resource is added to the child's play. With an apron of old cloth, a spoon and an assortment of old tin cups, odd jelly glasses and bottles. It is an abnormal child who is not happy and harmlessly busy for a long time every day. Any ordinary child over fourteen months of age loves to play with water in this way and learns steadiness of hand and sureness of eye which go a long way toward insuring agreeable table manners at an early age. As he grows older a fleet of boats made of bits of wood or walnut shells vary the fun. A little apron can be manufactured in a few minutes out of ten cents worth of table oilcloth. If the mother is very busy she can fasten it together at the shoulder and back with safety pins. A single apron should last through the entire babyhood of a child.

Children under four, often those under five, are too small to "play house" as yet, but they delight in climbing, and, if possible, provision should be made for that. A wooden box can be set a little down in the ground so that it will not tip over, and the edges padded with a bit of old comforter so that the inevitable bumps are not too severe. The smallest of the little playmates, even the baby who cannot walk, will rejoice endlessly to pull himself up over the edge and clamber down into the box thereby exercising every muscle in his body.

Little children can not co-ordinate their muscles quickly enough to play with much pleasure, but if a large soft ball is suspended by a long cord, they can swing it back and forth to each other with ever increasing skill, and they should have a rubber ball to roll to and fro on the ground.

A small wooden box with one side knocked out makes the best seat for a swing for small children. The three remaining sides make a high back and keep the child from falling. If this is swung on long poles instead of ropes there will be no side-to-side movement and little children will be safe-guarded from falling out sideways. If the support for a see-saw is made very low even children under five can enjoy and benefit by it in acquiring poise.

If a two-by-four board is laid on the ground the little folks will find much fun in trying to walk along it, and acquire thus a considerable addition to their capacity for walking straight and managing their bodies. A bit of string rope with the loose end with a easy reach will mean a great many self-invented exercises in balancing and will give a certainty of muscular action which will save the child from many a tumble later. A short length of board, perhaps four feet long, propped up on a stone or bit of wood, with one end fastened to the ground, furnishes a baby spring board which will delight the child from three to five. A pile of hay or straw to jump into will save the little gymnast from bumps and bruises, and marsh hay will answer just as well as the best timothy. This simple set of apparatus may be completed by a short roughly built ladder, with the rungs a short distance apart, set up against the house, with a soft pile of hay under it. This furnishes the little folks the chance to indulge their passion for climbing things, which is so dangerous when directed toward the kitchen table or bedroom bureau.

Nothing in this baby yard need cost a farmer's family more than a few cents, nor take but very little time and almost no carpentering skill. And yet the suggestions made cover a very complete outfit for the outdoor exercises of children under five or six. Any mother who secures the simple apparatus here described may be sure not only that her own little children will pass numberless happy hours but that they will never lack for playmates, because their play yard will be sought out by all the little folks in the neighborhood.

Please pass this article on to a friend and thus help Uncle Sam reach all the mothers of this country.

KITTERY

Kittery, Nov. 25.—Kittery has every reason to feel proud of its boys and girls who recently did such good work in the United War Fund drive, though hampered by not having the pledge cards and buttons to help them in their work, until Friday night. They did the collecting thoroughly and collected the sum of $417.17, $98.30, of which is credited to the boys for the Y. M. C. A. and $318.17 to the girls of the Patriotic League for the Y. W. C. A. The Library Association has $60.65 and the Catholic Society about $400. and more to come in. The forty-one Victory Girls pledges will bring $265.00 more, making a total for the town at the present time of $1082.72.

the Navy Yard. The girls of the League who collected are as follows: Misses Minnie Morrow, Harriet Jenner, Mildred Gerry, Marion Brackett, Mildred Cole, Myra Cole, Emma Paley, Marion Paige, Barbara Fife, Linda Fife, Ethel Peterson, Helen Chesley, Elizabeth Hueli, Mildred Woods and Mrs. Elizabeth Clark. Old Little and Doris Nicholson. They collected from 270 persons.

The Patriotic League will meet in the library at seven o'clock Tuesday evening to resume the unfinished work on layettes.

A nation-wide "blessing shower" for the benefit of the Red Cross begins today, and ends Dec. 25. The allotment of the Kittery branch is 500 handkerchiefs, 18x18, and 300 handkerchiefs 15x30 approximately. Donations can be left at the workrooms at the library on Tuesday and Thursdays. These supplies will be used in hospitals both in this country and abroad. Let the response from Kittery's housewives be generous so that we may go over the top.

The Junior League of the First Methodist church at North Kittery met on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Shaw of Portsmouth, and Mrs. H. J. Shaw and daughters, Misses Arvilla and Emily of Central street, were visitors at Chase Pond, York, on Sunday the guests of Mrs. William H. Chase.

Little Frank, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Blomskoe, has been ill.

Mrs. Emma Jackson of Somerville, passed Sunday in town with her daughter.

The Red Cross desires to help the boys overseas, and any near relative who has not received a Xmas label, can procure one by calling on Mrs. Arthur Chesley. The time of sending packages has been extended to Nov. 30.

Miss Beatrice Ladd of Amesbury, Mass., is the guest of her grandmother Mrs. Chas. Meyers and has taken employment in Portsmouth.

Riverside Lodge of Odd Fellows will hold a regular meeting tonight.

Daily exercises were held by the Government Street Sunday school at 10.00 o'clock Sunday morning. There was a large attendance and a collection of over $30. was taken.

J. Orville Otis of Malden, Mass., was a visitor in town on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Higgins of South Eliot passed Saturday in town. Guy Ames of Portsmouth was calling on friends in town on Sunday.

Owing to the fact that heat has been turned on in the library the sewing meetings of the Red Cross will hereafter be held on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, the Thursday afternoon meeting to be omitted this week owing to the holiday. There is much sewing to be done, and many workers are needed.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Staples and little son Emerson of North Berwick passed Sunday in town.

Leslie L. Williams and family of Love Lane passed the week end with relatives in Framingham, Mass.

Mrs. Harold Chick of Yarmouthville, Me., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Chick of Kittery Depot.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Otis of Government street have returned from a three weeks' visit in Philadelphia and Providence.

The members of Crystal Chapter Epworth League who go to York this evening will leave the church at 7.00 o'clock.

Aaron H. Brackett of Love Lane passed the week end with relatives in Springvale.

Memorial services will be held Tuesday afternoon at the Congress Street Methodist church in Portland for the late Dr. Joshua M. Frost.

Walter Macdonald of Love Lane passed Sunday in Bath.

AMERICAN TROOPS NOW IN GERMANY

Main Force on Border But Signal Corps Crosses in Rhemish Prussia

(By Associated Press) American Army of Occupation, Nov. 24.—The front line of the American army rests on the German border in Luxembourg on the Saar and the Moselle rivers across from the Rhemish front. The army will mark this line until possibly three or four days. In meantime the German forces are withdrawing gradually.

U-BOAT DEUTCHLAND SURRENDERED TO THE ALLIES

(By Associated Press) Harwich, Eng., Nov. 24.—In the presence of Sir Eric Geddes, First Lord of the Admiralty, twenty-eight German U-boats were surrendered today. This was the most imposing flotilla of U-boats that has hauled down the flag of Germany. The fleet included several very large type of boats four of which were over 350 feet long and of the cruiser type. The most notable one was the Deutschland U-139, which was the U-boat lers in the first line has been much better than that granted the rest of the nation. It is said that Dr. Solf appears anxious that the front line standard shall be maintained for the large body of troops returning from the front.

OPEN PIPE LINE ACROSS SCOTLAND

London, Nov. 24.—The inter-allied petroleum council has been attending the formal inauguration of a pipe line laid across Scotland along the Clyde. The line is to secure a continuous supply of fuel oil for the British naval base at Rosyth. The primary object of this pipe line, which can deliver 100 tons of oil per hour and is the longest in Europe, is to avert the necessity of tank steamers going around Scotland to the east coast.

Construction was begun in March and completed on November 11. Rear Admiral H. D. Tothill, fourth British sea lord, who performed the inaugural ceremony said that the speedy completion of the scheme was largely due to "our good friends in the United States who went over the pipe line and provided pipe and also the necessary haste and determination to overcome all difficulties."

Other speakers also emphasized the important part played by petroleum in war on both land and sea and paid warm tribute to the aid rendered by the United States government in connection with supplying petroleum for war uses and controlling prices. During its visit the council inspected the Scottish shale industry, which is now annually yielding 70,000 gallons of oil and 60,000 tons of ammonia.

DEATHS IN CAMP GREATER THAN IN ACTION

Washington, Nov. 22.—Deaths from all causes in Army camps in the United States from Sept. 15, 1917, to Nov. 15, 1918, numbered 23,970. This does not include deaths of marines. The total number of deaths from all causes among American Expeditionary Forces—as made public by the War Department—up to and including today, is 11,800. Of these 1361 are of marines. The total number of deaths from all causes among the American Expeditionary Forces, from the time the war began up to Nov. 15, was 28,751.

So the total of deaths on this side of the water in less than fourteen months was greater than the total of deaths made public as occurring "over there" and on the sea during the more than eighteen months from April 6, 1917, to Nov. 15, 1918.

JAKY DRUNKS GIVING LOTS OF TROUBLE

The Jamaica ginger drunks are getting so numerous in this city that the arrests for drunkenness of late has exceeded the arrests made when the saloons were open. For instance Saturday and Sunday there were nine drunks taken in, at least six of them were Jamaica ginger drunks. The druggists all refuse to sell Jamaica ginger except to those they know, and the small grocery stores are doing a great business with it. There is no law against it and the police are powerless to interfere. A favorite drink is the Jamaica ginger and elder and the result is like the kick of a mule.

UNSYNABLE SHIP LAST TO BE SUNK

(By Associated Press) Washington, Nov. 24.—The steamer Lucia, which was fitted with the buoyancy boxes, was the last of the United States ships to be sunk by a U-boat. This was given out in making the announcement of the story of the sinking by Chief Boatwain Mate O'Brien, who with his armed guard were commended by Secretary Daniels for the part they took in the fight which preceded the sinking of the steamer.

SAXONS TO JOIN GERMAN REPUBLIC

Amsterdam, Nov. 24.—In a proclamation to the Saxon people, the new government of Saxony, according to a despatch from Dresden, declares it is striving for the abolition of the old federal constitution and for the union of the Saxon and German people in a republic including German-Austria. Self-government and the protection of their cultural interests, the proclamation says should be granted to the component parts of the republic, and the authority of the Saxon and Weimarer councils should be defined most speedily by the national council. Expenditures it is declared could be covered by assessments on big fortunes, especially those derived from war profits, and incomes derived from the exploitation of labor should be abolished.

WILL RESTRICT SUBMARINES TO WAR CRAFT

(By Associated Press) Paris, Nov. 24.—Restriction of the submarine operations such as the attack on the Lusitania, doubtless will be proposed in the discussion which will take place on the freedom of the seas clause of the treaty of peace. In the view of the naval authorities the submarine should be limited to attacks on war ships and that attacks on merchant ships or freighters, either armed or unarmed, should be prohibited. This would make the submarine still a branch of the naval force, but restricted to actual work against war ships.

AL. NELSON TO MEET SOUTER

The Rockingham A. C. are to stage another boxing match Tuesday evening when their principal bout will be between Al Nelson of the Atlantic ship yard, and Young Souter of the Shattuck ship yard. Nelson, his friends claim, is in the best shape for a year, and in Souter he meets a lad who has been showing great form this fall. He is a tough lad with a stiff punch and Nelson will have his work cut out for him. Good preliminaries are promised.

NEWINGTON

Newington, Nov. 23.—Mr. Wm. Furbur is taking a vacation and is passing it with our former pastor, Rev. M. Wm. Berkeley and family of Lexington, Me.

Miss Aldrich, the substitute teacher of the grammar grade, passed the week end at her home in Durham.

Mrs. Fred deRochemont and young son of Portsmouth were guests of Mrs. Hiram Pickering on Tuesday.

The Readers' Circle was to meet with Mrs. Packard on Thursday at 7 o'clock. It is hoped that from now on the members will make an effort to be present at each fortnight meeting.

The regular meeting of the Piscataqua Grange was held in the town hall on Tuesday evening. District Deputy Pearson from Stratham was present and inspected the working of the degree. He was pleased with the flourishing condition of the Grange and made several pleasing remarks concerning it. He also said that it was remarkable that our grange had been able to hold their regular meeting for most of the granges had been handicapped because the meeting had to be suspended for a time on account of the prevailing epidemic which prevailed throughout the U. S. After the program an oyster stew was served. Several members of the Winnicut Grange were present.

The working force at the shipyard have only to work by day, but they put in a good 8 hours work.

As the only Real Painless Dentist in this city
I have practiced dentistry in Portsmouth for the past four years and during that time I have built up the largest practice in New Hampshire. I have done this by honest methods, absolute painless methods and perfect work and I firmly believe that the public, knowing these facts to be true, will guard themselves and act accordingly.

(DR. T. T. ESTABROOKS vs. "THE IMITATOR")
Look well into the record of your dentist.

BEWARE of imitation painless dentists who generally follow in my path, imitating vaguely that they have some of the wonderful inventions that I have; imitate and copy my methods in the hope that they may reap some of the benefit justly mine.

Nowhere in Portsmouth can one obtain the expert dental work at the low cost I charge them, except in my office where one will find a staff of expert dentists whose reputation compares favorably with the best dentists in the country.

PLENTY OF FOOD IN KAISER'S PALACE

(By Associated Press) Amsterdam, Nov. 24.—In an article on how the Kaiser held out, by a socialist deputy, he states that a search of the Kaiser's palace after he had fled the country shows that it was stored with vast supplies of food. In the huge white tiled rooms were vast quantities of every kind of food, meats, flour, sugar and all of the luxuries that could be wished for. Its value will be several hundred thousand marks.

Let the Children Read the Popular Astronomy Articles of Prof. Garrett P. Serviss

One of the best known and most popular writers on Popular Astronomy the United States has produced is Professor Garrett P. Serviss.

In the late 80's and early 90's Professor Serviss was an editorial writer on the New York Sun. Subsequently, he lectured extensively in all parts of the country on travel, history and astronomy.

Serviss is the author of "Astronomy With an Opera Glass," "Pleasures of the Telescope," "Other Worlds," "Astronomy With the Naked Eye," "Curiosities of the Sky," "Round the Year With the Stars," and a dozen other books.

Every day or two Professor Serviss writes a newspaper column—important, to be sure, but nevertheless bright, entertaining and informing, on some scientific subject of the moment.

And WHERE are the Serviss articles to be FOUND?

Portsmouth, N. H., Monday, November 25, 1918.

Credit Where Credit Is Due.

Secretary of the Treasury and Director General of Railroads W. G. McAdoo has resigned and it is a pleasure for this paper to pay him a compliment. When he was named many prominent Republican newspapers said many unkind things, but he has made good. His task has been a tremendous one and it has been a pleasure to read high praise from all sources of late. It does not detract from the greatness of a Republican to say a good word for a man that has performed the work that has fallen to Mr. McAdoo. It belittles the real newspaper to attack him simply because he was a Democrat. The people long ago tired of that kind of a newspaper.

Thanksgiving.

Thanksgiving Day this year should be a day of unusual significance to the American people, for never before has there been greater cause for devout thanksgiving from one end of the land to the other.

The greatest war in history, a war in which this country bore a prominent and an honorable part, has been brought to a triumphant conclusion. Right has prevailed over might and the world has been freed from the greatest menace it ever faced. While the peace settlements are yet to be made, the guns have ceased to thunder and the country and the world rest secure in the knowledge that the awful struggle is ended and that freedom and justice are henceforth to be the portion of the nations.

The people of the United States have reason to be thankful, in common with those of the rest of the world, that they were able to perform the part they did in bringing about the glorious result that has been attained. While the scars of the gigantic conflict are many and deep, the world knows that it is at the dawn of a better day, for the outcome is, as President Wilson says in his Thanksgiving proclamation, "a great triumph of right." It is equally true, as the president further says, that "complete victory has brought us not peace alone, but the confident promise of a new day as well, in which justice shall replace force and jealous intrigue among the nations."

The offering of thanks will not be based on the mere fact that the war has been won. The people know what the victory means to them and to the peoples of the world, and that for what it means they have reason to be profoundly thankful. It means peace for all and freedom and justice for all, and with freedom and justice there is no reason why peace should not be permanent and the world be spared further suffering like that which it has experienced in the last few years, and which is not yet ended. It will take time to heal the wounds and erase the scars, but time is a great healer and with its passage will go the bitterness that has been engendered, and the whole world will again enjoy peace and plenty, with the contentment and happiness that are born of the spirit of good will towards men.

It is unnecessary to emphasize the propriety of observing Thanksgiving Day this year in the spirit in which it was founded by the early settlers. We, like them, have had our trials. Our faith in the ultimate supremacy of righteousness has been vindicated and it is fitting that as a people we should acknowledge our obligations to the Supreme Ruler in a manner to prove that the nation's heart was behind its hand in the great and glorious work that has been accomplished, and that we are not unappreciative of the blessings that have been so bountifully showered upon us.

It is claimed that during the war the British got up a number of "mystery ships" capable of crossing the Atlantic in three days, and that one of them did this when Minister Balfour was brought over. If this is true the development is one that will be worth something in time of peace.

Manchester is to have a captured German cannon on the city common as a souvenir of the great war. There will be many mementoes of the memorable struggle, but the most precious will be the boys who helped win it when they get home.

After devoting his energies to the production of "flivvers" and U-boat chasers, the manufacture of canal boats should seem like pretty slow business to Henry Ford, who is said to be preparing for such an enterprise.

Success to the movement for a new bridge over the Piscataqua between this city and Kittery. And when it comes it should be open to the public without the antiquated necessity of paying toll.

It is reported that the Kaiser is suffering with the influenza, which has proved itself a most democratic disease. It respects no climate and no class.

HONOR ROLL OF MIDDLE ST. BAPTIST CHURCH

At the Middle Street Baptist Church Sunday evening the service was of more than ordinary interest and in recognition of those from this parish who by their efforts helped to make the peace possible. Three gold stars had been placed on the service flag and twenty names added to the Honor Roll of the church, making 62 names in all; some are members of this church, others were formerly in the Sunday school, still others are connected with the parish through family ties. The peace we all thank God for is due to these young men and thousands of others who went out, leaving those they loved behind.

The three gold stars were to the memory of Captain Frederick S. Towle, U. S. A., Percy H. Bailey, and Corporal Hugh C. Hill, the work having come on Sunday that the latter young man had been killed in action. The pastor, Rev. William P. Stanley, announced the death of Corporal Hill and paid a well deserved tribute to his memory.

The following is the list of names to be placed on the Honor Roll:

Wallace Akerman, Fortresses Monroe, Va.

OUR BOYS SERVING UNDER STARS AND STRIPES

PEN SKETCHES AND PICTURES.

Leon Lester Roberts enlisted in this city last April and left on May 7 for Fort Bliss for special training.

where he remained until June 30. He was then sent to Camp Mills, Long Island and attached to 90 Division Co. B, 316th Ammunition Train and sailed for overseas on July 4th. He was born in York, Maine, and is 22 years of age. This made his home here in Portsmouth for 14 years with his sister Mrs. Herbert E. Seavey of 115 Orchard street. He attended the Whipple school and is a graduate of the high school, class of 1915 and of New Hampshire College, class 1917, taking a two years' electrical engineering course. He is an active member of the Middle Street Baptist church and has hosts of friends, being a favorite with both old and young. During his high school and college days he was employed by John G. Parsons as clerk in his store. At the time of his enlistment he was employed as electrician at the Stockingham Light and Power Co. After his arrival in France he was stationed for nearly 3 months in the southern part, near Bordeaux and has written many interesting letters home describing the various places he has visited.

In a letter dated Oct. 20 he writes in part:

"I am in the northern part of France now. Our company is in a small town some miles from the front. It is a typical old place like I used to see pictures of in my geography. It is Sunday and they are all dressed up in their silks etc. Most of the people wear wooden shoes at their work. The schoolmaster is a big Frenchman. He comes out on the steps and just looks around and the children line up near the door. The schoolmaster starts down the line and they all show their hands. If any one has unclean hands or dirt on his clothing he has to go out to the town pump and wash it off. The schoolmaster then looks at the head of the line and they all turn around and march in, taking off their wooden shoes when they reach the door and carry them in their hands. It sure caused a laugh the first time we saw it."

LEON L. ROBERTS

"I am up one flight in an old chateau. It is some place. It has the old chimneys with fire places, large rooms etc. and tomorrow we are going out to get some wood and then we will be able to have a fire most of the time. We have got rolling kitchens with us and the night we came in we had hot coffee, bread and beans about midnight. I got a package started out to see a few towns. I run across several interesting points. I got a good feed, a few postals and a large map of France which I am going to put upon the wall of my billet. We are about 8 m. to the nearest railroad and there are two towns about 2 k. m. on either side. The nearest Y. M. C. A. is about 1 k. m. away. I was in a French restaurant; got some steak, potatoes, with a large order of some kind of pudding, all for 4 francs.

"We get fresh milk nearly every day. The people even try to give it to us. They go farmers and a few superior class to the cities we have met. I got quite a few letters yesterday, three of yours among them. The fellows asked me how I expected the mail would go around if I tried to take them all. I average about 16 a week. I got a very fine letter from Captain Wilson. I know where he is and possibly I may get to see him. Arthur Flannagan is still with us and he certainly looks fine! I used to see him every night but not so often now. Saw our artillery lay down a barrage a few nights ago. It was some sight. I am going out some day and see how much damage they did. It was pitch dark and raining hard when several of our fellows went out. I was all dressed up; had on my overcoat, steel helmet and leather gloves, so I was pretty warm and did not get wet. We play dominoes quite a lot in the evening. I lost my razor and I have the cutest misplaced eyebrow you ever saw. We got the Hostess (Hobo) containing the world series today. Needless to say they have been very popular. You can make up that Christmas box of whatever you please after you put in some chocolates. I should worry, make it a surprise. "Things are going along fine over here. The war conditions are better than ever. I still think it will be over by Christmas. I expect to be home in about a year perhaps sooner. We left on the glorious 4th, perhaps we will come back on the fourth.

"Just got another book from the Y. M. C. A. I have read a whole lot of them since I came over. Some of them I had read before. I manage to get enough to eat alright, leave that to me. That is about all I spent my pay for since I came across. Speaking of Hovey: The English love him dead 40 ways, but since we struck France why it has been different. We get plenty of white bread and hot biscuits nearly every morning. I have been out through the woods. It sure is fine when it doesn't rain. One thing I have noted and that is the beautiful sunsets. They are wonderful. I have quite a few more letters to write so I will close for this time. Love to all!"

MARK A. NEVILLE.

Stockingham street. He was born in this city and is a graduate of the Portsmouth high school, class of 1917. He enlisted in the navy Oct. 4, 1918, and is now at the Naval School at New Hampshire College, Durham. He has a brother also in the service, Sergeant Edward J. Neville, a member of the C. A. C. and stationed at Fort Stark, New Castle, and now "somewhere in France."

OBSEQUIES

Fred J. Trefethen.
The funeral of Fred J. Trefethen was held at 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon from his late home in Kittery, Rev. J. E. Jenner officiating. Mrs. Hinton sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "Lead, Kindly Light." The four brothers were bearers and interment was in the Rover Grove cemetery under the direction of O. W. Ham.

Alvira Zammarchi.
The funeral of the late Alvira Zammarchi was held at 8:30 this morning from the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Rev. Father Sullivan celebrating high mass of requiem. Interment was in Calvary cemetery under direction of W. J. Miskell.

POLICE COURT

The lineup in the municipal court this forenoon was mostly jakey drunks and gamblers. The gambling contingent was arrested in a night raid in a boarding house at 235 Market street and was made up of Robert Rose, Noel Dunsay, Victor Make, Victor Koski, and Alvy Zubkoss, the last named being charged with maintaining a gambling house. The first four were found guilty and paid a fine and costs of $12.00.

Zubkoss was discharged. Edward Lindzyk, charged with keeping liquor for sale, was discharged. The jakey delegation consisted of John Magraw, Frank Wilkins, William Master, Andrew McNay, David Currie and William Miller. The two first named were assessed for $17.00 and the others passed over $15.74.

TO BUILD OIL BARGES AT SHATTUCK YARD

Orders have been received by the L. H. Shattuck Inc. to turn two of the hulls now under construction into oil carrying barges. The orders will necessitate quite a number of changes in construction, requiring the installation of tanks for the oil. It is possible that a number of other large barges will be built there.

NAVY YARD NOTES

Requests Retirement
Dr. H. H. Tibbets, a Lieut. in the fleet naval reserve who has been attached to the yard dispensary for some time past has made a request to be placed on the inactive list of the service. Dr. Tibbets hails from Bethel, Maine, and entered the service at the outbreak of the war.

In Memory of Hale.
One of the new torpedo boat destroyers now under construction will be named after Senator Hale of Maine. The following communication from Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, to Mrs. Hale announces this fact. Department of the Navy, Nov. 12, 1918.

My Dear Mrs. Hale: Absence from the city at the time of your late distinguished husband's death prevented my sending you promptly as I should have liked, an expression of sympathy in your great loss. The delay, however, attests the privilege of associating your husband's name more directly with the recent glorious achievements of our navy, which culminated in yesterday's historic event.

The unusually long and able service of Senator Hale as chairman of the Senate naval affairs committee is recognized and appreciated by all who take pride in our navy. As a tribute to his memory and in commemoration of his great service, the department will take special pleasure in naming in his honor one of the torpedo boat destroyers now in course of construction in his native state, which he represented so long and so ably.

Very sincerely yours,
JOSEPHUS DANIELS.

RAILROAD NOTES

It is understood that a telegraph office and registering station for trains on the Dover branch will shortly be put in at the shipyard, Kittery, also a registering station at the Atlantic yard, Freeman's Point.

One Marshall, transmission the York Harbor and Beach branch, returned to duty today after a vacation of two weeks.

A new sand storage shed is nearly completed at the local round house. The firm of C. W. Flagg of Lynn is doing the building.

The car heating system at the round house was put in operation for the season on Friday. During the winter nearly 40 cars require heating at night. According to the new working schedule of the B. & M. telegraph operators the matter of a vacation with one week's pay has been discontinued. A carpenter's crew from Salem, under Foreman Rogers, are engaged in reinforcing the palky section of the draw on the Portsmouth and Kittery bridge.

Baggage Master James Johnson of the Portsmouth and Concord train is moving his household effects from 699,000 Pilgrim Memorial Fund which the Congregationalists are raising as a feature of their celebration in 1920 of the 300th Anniversary of the Landing of the Pilgrims. The earnings of the Fund will be used to aid in pensioning aged Congregational clergymen. The Orlamont church is making a fine response to the appeal.

Frank E. Waldron, a B. & M. fireman, who has just been elected a representative to the legislature from Dover, has received more political honors in the hands of the Democrats than the party candidate for junyor.

The improvements in the waiting rooms, etc., at the local depot of the B. & M. are expected to be completed next week by the general contractor, W. N. Pike & Sons of Lawrence.

The subcontractors, Danielson and Bloomfield, on the painting, and C. H. Smith Company of Boston on the steam heating, expect to finish up on Wednesday.

DR. WIRT GAVE ABLE ADDRESS AT Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Lincoln Wirt delivered the address at the meeting for enlisted men on Sunday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. It was an informal talk, Dr. Wirt, who held the position of Red Cross Commissioner with the United States army in Europe, telling some of his experiences while abroad.

He told of the cheerfulness and the fine spirit of the men in the front lines, saying that once it used to be the largest army that won but now it is the morale of the army that makes it win out and it was the wonderful spirit back of our fighting men that helped them win.

He spoke of the bravery of the women of Paris and said during the times of greatest danger the French women would remain in the city at their posts. Every woman and child in France, the speaker said, felt she had her part to do behind the lines at home and felt if those lines broke why the lives of the soldiers would break.

He said when our boys came into the fight they came with a song and a joke, not because they went in fearlessly, knowing little about war, but although realizing its perils, they went into the fight with a splendid spirit, ready to give the best that was in them. The British were then going suddenly into battle, but when our boys got into the war it was not long before the British were telling the last American joke and the French were all singing "Over There."

Dr. Wirt told of going up and down France with eleven other Red Cross men and he said he wished to say for the honor of our boys "Over There" that not one of the party had seen a drunken American soldier. They have grown big and fine and strong and have been drinking from deep fountains. It makes no difference whether the soldier is a Jew, Catholic, Protestant, Greek or other nationality, if he is willing to take his share of hardships with the others and is square in his dealings he is a comrade with the rest if he fears God but does not fear anyone else.

Dr. Wirt told the enlisted men present that they must not feel disappointed that they were not across in the fight, although he realized how all wished active service. You men, he said, had as honorable a place in the war as if you had gone overseas or over the top, because by your being here some others could go. You are just as honorable men and you are going to be the leaders in the days to come and Uncle Sam will see to it that you get the good things to come. The meeting opened with a hearty praise service. At the conclusion of the service the Unitarian Alliance served the Fellowship Lunch of assorted sandwiches, doughnuts and coffee. Mrs. William E. Marvin was chairman of the lunch and 200 men were served, many of these being from the U. S. S. Charleston and its sister ship the U. S. S. St. Louis, now at this navy yard.

TWO DRIVES IN ONE DAY

Claremont went away over the top in its United War Work Campaign at 6:30 p. m. November 13th. At 6:30 the Congregationalists of Claremont, flushed with success, gathered in their church for a supper and address by Secretary Herring of the Congregational National Council, after which they made subscriptions to the big $5,000 Pilgrim Memorial Fund which the Congregationalists are raising as a feature of their celebration in 1920 of the 300th Anniversary of the Landing of the Pilgrims. The earnings of the Fund will be used to aid in pensioning aged Congregational clergymen. The Orlamont church is making a fine response to the appeal.

FOYE'S

IT CERTAINLY WAS SOME ARGUMENT

About 30 of the Men's Club reported at the club house on South street on Sunday evening to participate in the first of a series of banquets and debates that are down on the program for the winter months.

After doing justice to an antelope supper the debate opened on the subject, "A Man is a Man Because He Cannot be Anything Else."

Simon H. Harrison, the orator of the club, introduced the subject and with much force talked for one hour and thirty minutes in the affirmative exceeding the time limit by one hour and thirty minutes.

Leon Smart, another coming debator of the club, presented the negative and his first appearance satisfied the guests that Harrison did not have it all his own way. The committee did not dare to give a decision without a night's rest and will submit it in writing at a later date under guard.

The Hammer quartet sang several selections and the chef and his assistants in the culinary department were presented with gas masks.

WORKMAN KILLED INSTANTLY BY AUTOMOBILE

Jammed Against Building in Kittery and Neck
Broken.

A sad and apparently unavoidable accident occurred this forenoon in Kittery in which Fred Bond, a painter employed by Fred A. Gray and Company, was instantly killed by an automobile. The dead man had been working on Segrue's Hotel near the navy yard gate, and was engaged in arranging the staking when the machine crushed out his life.

The automobile, driven by one of the employees of the general store at the navy yard, and said to be owned by an officer at the station, while coming onto the highway from the navy yard bridge, is thought to have struck a defective spot in the road, turned nearly completely around, running directly for Bond, who was stooping over at the time, overhauling the ropes.

The driver cried out to the man, but before he could get away he was pinned between the machine and the building with a broken neck and died instantly.

Deputy Sheriff Boardman took charge of the case and notified Coroner Jacques of South Berwick, who held an inquest at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The dead man was a resident of Stratham and has been employed as a painter in this city for five years or more. He leaves a wife and two sons, one of whom is in the army.

Eliot, Nov. 25.—Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Sanborn and daughter Maud of Portsmouth were the guests of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fernald on Sunday.

Mrs. Wallace Manson entertained the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church on Thursday last.

Rev. Mr. Barnes of Portsmouth conducted the services at the Advent church on Sunday.

G. O. Athorne is confined to his home by illness.

Mrs. Herbert Wood of Bath, Me., is visiting her mother, Mrs. Florence Staples.

Mrs. Clarence Cole was a visitor in Kittery Friday.

Mrs. Harlow Liebman and daughter visited her parents, A. B. Cole and wife of Kittery Friday.

Dr. and Mrs. J. K. P. Rogers of Portland visited her sisters, Misses Ella and Lillian Dame over Sunday.

The Mr. Little who was killed Thursday in the railroad wreck at Falmouth, Me., was the father-in-law of Mrs. Ola Stacey Little, who belonged in Eliot, but now lives in Kittery. She went to the Little home in Augusta, Friday.

Tuesday last Mrs. Samuel Dixon entertained a "wheel" of the Ladies' Aid Society connected with the Somerset M. E. church, of which organization she is a member. The society has so many members it is not convenient for all to meet at one place so it is divided into "wheels." The visitors were Mrs. Wentworth, who is over 33 years old, and who came with her son's wife, Mrs. Fred Wentworth in her auto, her daughter Mrs. Blaisdell, Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Andrews, Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. Dorr, Mrs. Ransburg, daughter of the hostess and Mrs. Rich and Kimball, a granddaughter. After a tour passed in knitting for the Red Cross with accompaniment of friendly chat, refreshments of snacks, cake and coffee were served about 5 p. m. The "wheel" started for Somerset by car and auto, having enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Maud Deal.

Mrs. Maud Deal, wife of Wellington J. Deal, died at her home in Greenland, N. H., Saturday evening, aged 42 years. Besides her husband she is survived by three children. The remains were sent to Reading, Mass., on Sunday for services and interment under the direction of J. V. Wood.

Mrs. Bertha L. Moulton.

Mrs. Bertha L. Moulton, wife of Joseph W. Moulton, died at the York Hospital Sunday, Nov. 24 following an illness of but a few days. Besides the bereaved husband she leaves three devoted sons, Herbert C. Chapman now overseas, George and Harry of York, one step daughter Mrs. Myron Hemlock of Eliot, and one step son Harry E. Moulton of York, to mourn her loss.

Patrick Quinn.

Patrick Quinn, employed at the Atlantic Corporation, died at the Portsmouth hospital on Sunday at the age of 37 years. He was a native of Haverhill, Mass., and his remains were sent there by W. P. Mikell.

K. OF G. NOTES.

The entertainment scheduled for Thanksgiving night has been cancelled owing to the alterations to the building.

The Secretary is doing everything possible to entertain the men of the service during the changes. He has had the victrolas moved to the main hall until the other rooms are finished.

The room assigned to the members has been turned over to the enlisted men and they now have the use of the entire building.

The committee on rehearsal held a meeting on Saturday evening. There was a large attendance. The first rehearsal will be held on Sunday afternoon.

On the completion of the shower baths on the first floor the old showers will be removed.

The Secretary has asked for another secretary and two player plans to help amuse the crowds that take advantage of the home.

There are few lots of books being received every day and still more can be used.

TO ATTEND HOUSING CONFERENCE

Mr. E. H. Baker, secretary of the Portsmouth Chamber of Commerce, will attend a conference at Boston today on the housing situation. This conference is called by the Federal authorities and from it is expected that some definite plans will be made about the housing about ship yards and naval stations now that the armistice has been declared.

THANKSGIVING AND PEACE DINNER TO 60 WORTHY PEOPLE

That Number Will Be Welcomed at the Kearsarge House Cafe Thursday.

On Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Sherman T. Newton will give a Thanksgiving and Peace dinner at the Kearsarge House Cafe at 12.30. This dinner will be free to 60 worthy people and will be the best the house can afford in honor of the holiday and the ending of the great war. Any resident of this city, who may for reasons be unable to enjoy the usual Thanksgiving day dinner in their home, are welcome. Mr. and Mrs. Newton have issued tickets for such guests which can be obtained from any of the following people: Michael Hurley, Chief of Police; Mrs. Carrie Hull, secretary of the Organized Charities; Miss Emily Bracebill, No. 200 State street; and Mrs. Ernest L. Chaney, No. 93 High street.

PORTSMOUTH EXCEEDS ITS BIG QUOTA

Portsmouth has exceeded its quota in the United War Work drive but not by the figures that were first expected. Its original quota was $28,500, a sum like that of the other drives on Liberty bond drives, is based on the amount that is apportioned to the navy yard, and two ship yards, and of course makes this city's quota way over what it should be, and the fact that the city exceeded its great quota is much to the credit of the local committee.

In making up this city's quota the full amount expected at the navy yard and ship yards is figured in, although this city does not get anywhere near the amount set for these places from the fact that through the credit system they go to other places. For instance, Portsmouth is credited with the Shattuck ship yard full amount, but Dover, which has a far smaller quota than this city, actually gets more out of the amount collected than this city. This makes it all the harder for this city and in future drives that fact should be called to the attention of the central officers who make up the quotas.

While the entire figures are not available at present the total sum collected in this city, or credited to this city, will not exceed $32,000. This is due to the fact that the sums allotted to some plants were not reached. The Atlantic Corporation leads all of the plants with a total of $6,500 for this city. The Navy Yard, who were expected to give this city $3,000, only gave $1,700 out of its total collection of about $12,000. The Naval Prison, which received all of its supplies from this city and which was a credit to this city, has been ordered to credit their collections to the Military branch. The Shattuck ship yard is the smallest and Portsmouth's credit from this yard will not exceed much over $1,000, although $200 was collected at the plant, about half of which went to Dover, although Dover's quota was not made with the idea that they would receive such credits, as the yard is in Rockingham County and under that district.

The women's committee did wonderful work, exceeding $6,000, and both the Gale and Morley Button factories made fine showings. The total figures will be available possibly in a couple of days.

Portsmouth is, however, one of the few cities in the state that has exceeded its quota in this great drive. For a sum of money that was the greatest ever collected in the world for any such purpose.

POLICE MAKE SATURDAY NIGHT RAID

The police on Saturday night raided the house on the corner of Market and Green street, kept by Edward Holzyk, and as a result of the raid he is being held charged with selling liquor, and Alex Zuck, who occupies a part of the upstairs, was held for maintaining a gambling house. Four Fink were arrested for gambling and all will be given a hearing before Judge Cuyler in the morning.

Holzyk came here from Manchester and since he has been here he has been arrested for selling liquor and his place has been the subject of many complaints. It was this place that the sailors raided one night and nearly cleared it out and they claimed at that time that they had bought liquor there and were hunting for more.

In addition to the raid the police picked up nine drunks on Saturday and on Sunday four more.

WAR BOARD STILL BUSY

Although the armistice has been signed and the end of the war is assured, the local War Board have not let up in the amount of work assigned them. The classification and the work of calling men has been eliminated, but the Board is now engaged upon an exhaustive report to the Provost Marshal General and this will require a great amount of work and the handling of practically every question.

The members of the Board will be delighted when the work is finally finished, for all have devoted their time to the work to the neglect of their private business. Messrs. Spinnery and Marvin have given practically all of their time to this great work, giving up all of their private work, and Dr. C. E. Pender, the medical officer of the Board, during times of examination of the men, has had to give practically all of his time, giving up his office work and much of his private practice. The Board have made a wonderful record and they may well feel proud of the record of the office which is one of the best in the country.

MEN AT FRONT KNEW END NEAR

Over on the other side the men close to the fighting front seem to have had a far shrewder notion of the approaching end of hostilities than was possessed by many of the professional critics and military writers back home. "Col. Gibson, our compatriot to France, told me yesterday that he did not think the war would last more than two weeks more," says Gordon Woodbury, now overseas, in the Red Cross service, in a letter just received by a Manchester friend. The letter bore date of Oct. 31. The armistice it will be recalled, was signed Nov. 11; so that Col. Gibson's prediction was fully borne out by the event.

It will be recalled that Mr. Woodbury went abroad about three months ago, sailing from New York in charge of a party of Red Cross workers. He ranks as a captain in the service of the great organization, and in the course of his duties in France has seen much of the working of both the military and relief systems. His letter brings word also of the convalescence of his eldest son Peter, who left his studies at Phillips Exeter academy to enlist in the machine gun company of the 107th Infantry, and who was seriously wounded at St. Quentin.

Of the gallantry and the splendid qualities of the Yankee troops, and of the record they have made on the western front as well as of the great service they rendered at a high crisis of the war, Mr. Woodbury writes:

The Folks He Left Behind

Remember the mothers and fathers of the boys who are in the service and far from home. Brighten them up on Christmas Day with messages of cheerfulness. You'll find our Greeting Cards especially appropriate.

"The American soldier! I cannot begin to describe him to you. To see a squad of these men marching through the street of Paris, to see the easy, straight, high-headed, clear-eyed boys, a little serious of face, a little lean of figure, a little long in the leg, but oh, so free—free more than I can tell, and when they turn and salute my uniform, I feel prouder than I have ever known before."

Our part here is more than creditable. It is superlative. I have dined with generals, I have talked with officers innumerable, with doctors who have been here for three years, and the story is always the same. At Chateau Thierry the allied troops holding the line broke and fled. Our people marched through them for two miles, pushing on into action with the Bavarian guns, halting them, and finally driving them back and breaking them. At St. Quentin the Boche had formed the strongest post in all the ill-fated line. The wire entanglements were nearly a mile in depth. The Prussian Imperial guard were under orders to hold it at all cost—and they paid the cost!

The 27th division, 17,000 odd strong were picked to lead the assault, because they were all volunteers and so supposed to be as good as the best. I talked with our Red Cross officer who was there. The attack began at dawn on a Sunday morning and by noon the place was ours. It was there that Peter got his wound—about 3.30 that Sunday morning.

"The story is the same for all. The only criticism of the American soldier I have heard is that he is too keen," as the British say. He does not wait for his own barrage to lift; he is too willing to risk himself, and he never retreats. As a first class fighting man he was repeatedly proved he has no superior.

"In short, the American people may well be proud of themselves. I do not say that other peoples may not be proud likewise, I am not talking about them. But I do say that from drummer boy to commander-in-chief our allies here are lost in wonder, love and praise of the American soldier."

Turning in the field of the Red Cross, Mr. Woodbury says: "The Red Cross organization are doing a work well worthy of hearty support at home. Their function of support for the American soldier might better be discharged by the army, to be sure, but since it is not, we can feel that our boys receive all the many little cares and attentions—and all the big ones, too—which our people want them to receive, and that the Red Cross alone is the means of their supply."

"My duties have taken me to many hospitals, but I have not yet found any of our New Hampshire boys. They of course, are the particular objects of my search. When Peter has been moved from here—which will be in next week in all probability—I shall have more time. But the hospitals are wide ly separated and very numerous, so that it may take a long time to get results."

"After the war will come the demobilization. There is a firm feeling in favor of doing a thorough piece of work and not going back without cleaning it all up. Our people are ready to stay as long as they are of any use, but the measures for the relief of our soldiers seem to be what they are really interested in. The measures for the relief of devastated France and Belgium do not seem to meet so much enthusiasm. The people of these countries can do the work for themselves and in their own way to better advantage, with financial rather than bodily aid."

N. H. TROOPS HAVE FINE RECORD

The Boston Transcript on Saturday had an interesting account of the record of the 20th Division, which has done such wonderful work in France. It is of special interest here as the division contained the New England troops, including the New Hampshire former National Guard, and there are many local boys with that Division in the 102d regiment. First Lieut. Philip Griffin is an officer of the 103d regiment, which has been in some of the most important engagements, at Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel, the Meuse river and the Chemin des Dames front. Lieut. Griffin has recently been promoted to personal officer of the 103d regiment and attached to the headquarters staff.

METRO A FAST WRESTLER

Hill Dryden meets a tough customer in the wrestling game this evening in Charlie Metro of Boston, a middle-weight who does not take any odds from anybody. Metro is a lad who has been able to step by many of the so-called aspirants for the championship, notably Kilonis and a few others.

He wrestled Dryden here a year ago and Dryden won two out of three falls, but it was one of the best matches of the season. Metro is a remarkably fast wrestler, who knows the game and furthermore is not afraid to mix it, although a clean wrestler.

Another match this evening of more than usual interest is that of "Butcher" Smart and Soldier Holthe, and the local man will have the hardest match of his career.

HIGH SCHOOL LOSES TO NEWBURYPORT

The High school football team were defeated at Newburyport on Saturday afternoon by a score of 25 to 7. Piper made the only score for the locals, getting the ball on a kickoff and running the entire length of the field. The Newburyport team played an open game and they worked the forward pass to a great advantage.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back Hurts or Bladder bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues slow and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system. When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in uric so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

INQUIRY INTO HUN PROPAGANDA

Washington, Nov. 24.—The senate committee investigating brewery propaganda decided today to take up on Dec. 3 a general inquiry into German propaganda. This followed adjournment of the hearings today until after the beginning of the new session of congress on Dec. 2.

Organized campaigns directed by the United States brewers association against prohibition laws and dry sentiment were described to the committee today by John McDermott of New York, manager of the association's organization committee.

Under questioning the witness told of organizations formed in various states, sometimes with their names giving no indication to the public of their purpose. He told of speakers sent into sections engaged in wet and dry fights and of other activities.

He said he had prepared a schedule showing the situation in many states, but denied that his committee actually participated in political contests except in Tennessee and Texas, where it supported anti-prohibition candidates for governor. In other states local organizations were left to conduct contests in favor of individual candidates favorable to brewery interests.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS

THE WORK OF THE RED CROSS IN EUROPE

Dr. Lincoln Wirt, Red Cross commissioner with the United States army in Europe, delivered a very interesting address at the North Church on Sunday evening on the work of the Red Cross in Europe. The large church was filled and he had the closest attention of a very appreciative audience.

Dr. Wirt has been of course in a position to make a close study of the work. He was sent from this country for that purpose and with all of the military facilities at his command so that he went everywhere and saw everything pertaining to the work of the Red Cross, which means that he followed the soldiers from the time they disembarked to the front line trenches and then followed them over the captured territory.

He gave a most interesting account of the great work of this great organization, which impressed one of the magnitude of the work, not only the hospital but the canteen and field work.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You can Bring Back Color and Lustre with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell because it's done so naturally, so easily. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and lustrous.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

KING ALBERT WANTS PEOPLE TO VOTE

(By Associated Press)
Brussels, Nov. 24.—King Albert, who was so enthusiastically received on his re-entry into Brussels, made a speech in the Belgian parliament which was of utmost importance. General Pershing, representing the United States, and General Plummer, the English army, were present and all of the diplomats including Brandt Whitlock, who has returned to his old post. He advocated the lowering of the ancient barriers and that equal suffrage be granted all of a matured age.

CROWN PRINCE HOOTED IN HOLLAND

Amsterdam, Nov. 24.—The former Crown Prince of Germany, upon his arrival at Enkhuizen today, received a far different welcome from that he has received in other parts of Holland. As he alighted from the train with his usual swagger, he was greeted with hoots of hatred from the crowd that was outside the gates. He appeared to be taken back by this reception and at once retired to his car.

NEW HEAD OF THE UFA GOVERNMENT

London, Nov. 23.—A dispatch from Russia received by the Foreign Office announces that Admiral Kolshak has been made supreme head of the Ufa government formerly controlled by 5 directors, Kolshak being one of them.

ALL LIGHTING BANS ARE OFF

The ban on electric lights for street illuminations and signs has been lifted and it is very probable that the principal streets of this city will now have a little more cheerful appearance in the early evening.

DRINKING MOST ANY OLD THING

Bay Rum, Jamaica Ginger,
Hair Tonic and Doctored
Cider on the List.

The many substitutes for liquor now being used in this city shows just what effect the Lewis law is having and what is causing much drunkenness.

On Sunday a driver of one of the small wagons picked up 16 bottles on Church street in the rear of the federal building which had contained Jamaica ginger, Zepps hair tonic, bay rum and other extracts. This combination had been mixed up for drinks and the empty bottles left in the street.

The many arrests of late show what is causing drunkenness as bottles containing these mixtures are found on people brought in by the police.

In addition to this, cider is being fixed with raisins, corn, etc., and even lavender water has made up part of the many queer drinks since the Lewis law became effective.

WEDNESDAY EVENING

The big Thanksgiving Eve Ball will be held this year as usual at Freeman's hall. The music will be under the direction of Clara Wentworth Marden, one of the most versatile, accomplished and proficient leaders in New England. The scores of dancers that work in the various ship plants, coming from practically all parts of the country speak highly of our local orchestra and never miss an occasion when they are to play. The management is planning on a late dance on account of the next day being a holiday. Come early, stay late, and have a good time.—Adv.

CORPORAL HUGH C. HILL KILLED

An official telegram was received Sunday, Nov. 24, by Mrs. Hayden, Wood of Cabot street, informing her that her nephew, Corp. Hugh C. Hill, K Co., 35th Infantry, was killed in action Sept. 17. Corp. Hill was born in Kennebunk, Me., July 26, 1890, and after obtaining his education came to Portsmouth and was employed for a time by A. K. Rand.

In January, 1914, he enlisted in the Navy and was honorably discharged.

CORPORAL HUGH C. HILL.

In January of this year, with the rating of carpenter's mate, 3d class, on April 25 he went to Camp Dix, as a draftee, having volunteered to go a long while before he would have been called. He went overseas a few weeks later and his last letter, written in August was dated Somewhere in France. He was an active member of the Middle street church. His only nearer relative is Serg. Cyril D. Hill, B Co., 66th Pioneer Infantry, also in France.

Corporal Hill united with the Middle Street Baptist church while in the navy, and was active in church work. He was at one time president of the Young Men's Guild of that parish and ever an active member of the Young People's Society. He entered into things and was one of the popular young people of the parish and there was genuine sorrow in the congregation on Sunday when it was announced that word had just come that the young soldier had been killed in action.

Before he entered the army he, with several others, was given a farewell supper by the young people of the Middle Street Baptist parish and in a letter to the pastor, Rev. William T. Stanley, not long since, he referred to that pleasant gathering.

So anxious was he to enter the army at the completion of his term in the navy that he volunteered to go in place of a young man who was ill. While he was at Camp Dix, Rev. Mr. Stanley, who was a trip, stopped over to greet several of the local soldiers there and had a pleasant call with the young man.

NELSON VS. SOUTIER.

Local boxing fans are bound to see plenty of action in all the bouts arranged by the Rockingham A. C. at the show tomorrow evening. The main bout is attracting more than usual attention. Nelson from the Atlantic Corporation and Soutier from the Shattuck Plant will have strong backing from their respective shipyards.

It might be interesting to know that in this bout the winner is to take the entire purse. Soutier remarking that he would stop Nelson and the latter came back with the challenge winner to take all. There will be two other bouts arranged for plenty of action. Soutier has stepped Joe Demarees of Pawtucket on two different occasions and has a win over Jim Savage who held Joe Egan to a draw down in Gloucester so it looks as though Nelson will have to travel at his best to get a look in at the end. Al, however, is a popular local favorite and has yet to lose a decision in Portsmouth. Quite a few Manchester people are coming over for the show.—Adv.

WILL LAUNCH 7TH STEAMER SATURDAY

The seventh 3500-ton steamer will be launched from the L. H. Shattuck Inc. yard at Newington on Saturday at 10 a. m. The sponsor will be Mrs. Fernando Wood Harford the wife of the Secretary of the Corporation and the ship will be christened "Woyaca." The number of the ship on the Emergency Fleet list is 400.

SERVICE AT WENTWORTH HOME

On Sunday afternoon, Nov. 24th, a religious service suitable for the Thanksgiving season, was held at the Mark H. Wentworth Home for Invalids, by the Rev. Mr. Thayer, pastor of the North Church, the music being furnished by several young ladies of his parish, one of whom presided at the piano.

CAPTURE PRISONERS AT YORK HARBOR

Prisoners Who Get Away
From Naval Prison Are Rounded Up.

York Harbor, Nov. 21.—Charles H. Trimble, aged 23, Andrew Studermeier, 21, William Leaman, 23, prisoners who escaped from the Prison Ship Southernly at the Portsmouth Navy Yard last Friday were captured here today after an exciting hunt in which the village fire department took a prominent part.

This morning a passerby noticed a man enter the house of Mr. Timmons, which was supposed to be unoccupied. He notified Deputy Sheriff H. Grant Duff, who went to the house and surprised the three men. He placed two of the men under arrest after they had put up a stiff resistance.

In the meantime the third one escaped from the rear of the house and made his way to the big swamp.

Sheriff Duff caused the fire alarm to be sounded and the department surrounded the swamp. Early in the afternoon the prisoner came out and surrendered in Dr. E. C. Cook. The prisoners were taken back to the navy yard.

INTENTIONS FILED IN BOSTON

The marriage intention of Marcello Marvici, 38, a musician of this city, and Minnie Pfefferkorn, a music teacher of 125 Peterboro street, Boston, has been filed at City Hall, Boston.

AND THEN THEY CAME AND LOOKED IT OVER

Not long ago a certain gentleman well known in Portsmouth, indicated to a member of the firm of Margeson Brothers that he was in the market for a dining suite; told us to figure out what, in our opinion, he ought to have and "the family" would come in and look it over.

Do you know what was done first? A trip to the residence was made; the dining room was measured; the wall spaces taken into consideration; the architecture of the house and especially the interior arrangements given careful study.

With all this information at hand, the representative from Margeson Brothers came back to the store, cleared out one of the rooms in our furnished suite, placed sideboard, serving table, china cabinet and everything in proper order, just as they should appear when arranged in the prospective customer's home.

Do you think a sale was made? It certainly was! And when the furniture was moved and placed where it actually belonged and where we hope it will stay for many years to come, you ought to have heard the expressions of approval and appreciation.

Oh, yes, it pays to do these little things! And we will be only too glad to extend such courtesies to you. How, for instance, do you think a suite like the above would look in your dining room, or, if not that, some other of your own selection from a score or more now on display at "THE QUALITY STORE," 64 Vaughan Street.
